THE COMPLETE PROGRAMME FOR THE PREMIER'S VISIT

The Final and Official List of All the Big Doings

PARADES AND BANQUETS

Speeches and Deputations, Bands and Flowers and Flags Will Fill the Hours

The welcome of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the demonstration in his honor which is to begin this evening on the arrival of the special train bearing the Premier and his party, and which will last throughout tomorrow, promises to live long in the memory of the honored guests.

The many decorations which have been made and the prevalent opinion on the streets present proof of the great esteem and admiration in which the venerable statesman is held in Western Canada, even though many have yet to see him and hear him for the first time.

Arrive at Six O'clock.
According to arrangement, the special train is to arrive at the Canadian Northern station at six o'clock, and to say that a large crowd will be on hand to accord him his initial welcome would be superfluous. The Prime Minister will be welcomed by Lt.-Gov. Buley and the civic reception committee appointed for the purpose, and directly afterwards he will be driven in a roundabout way, escorted by bands and carriages, containing prominent local men, to the King Edward Hotel.

The train left Lloydminster at nine o'clock this morning, and between stops at Vermilion, Vegreville and Fort Saskatchewan, where it is probable the Prime Minister will address the people who would congregate to greet him from the car platform.

The regular C.N.R. train for the east which left here last night at 9 o'clock, is attached to the rear of a special car which bore a large number of people to Lloydminster to meet the special. The following were noticed among the party: Hon. A. L. Sifton, Hon. Frank Oliver, Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Hon. C. W. Cross, Mayor Lee, Ald. Garripy, Geo. B. McLeod, C. COCHRANE IS FIRE SWEEP

Nineteen Buildings in Business Section Were Burned to the Ground

TOWN'S FIRST SET BACK

Northern Ontario Village Presents Sorry Appearance With Black Gash Across It

North Bay, Aug. 8.—Cochrane, 252 miles north of this place, the youngest town in the north, received its first set-back yesterday when fire licked up nineteen business places. As the merchants occupied living rooms above their stores, nineteen families are homeless and tents are being hurried to the scene from Cobalt to house the unfortunate until other arrangements can be made. Shortly after two o'clock Sunday morning railway men noticed a blaze in Brindley's real estate office and the alarm was at once given by the blowing of engine whistles and by running from house to house to arouse sleeping occupants. Fortunately there was no wind blowing or the whole town would have been fire-swept.

As it was the flames spread with great rapidity, leaping from one frame building to another, and the efforts of the bucket brigade were directed to keeping the fire confined to one side of the street.

The entire block facing upon two streets was wiped out, nineteen buildings being completely destroyed. Efforts were made to save the stocks, and merchandise was piled in great heaps in the middle of the streets and that escaped the flames was damaged by mud and handling.

Only one house is left standing in the two blocks devastated, and the sprightly little town presents a sorry appearance with the black gash across the centre and goods scattered promiscuously in the streets.

BADEN-POWELL WAS AT WINNIPEG

Just Passed Through the City Yesterday on His Way to the West

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—Lieut. Gen. R. S. Baden-Powell arrived on the Imperial Limited and after a brief stop with Col. Steele continued westward. Fifteen typical English school boys, enlisted in Baden-Powell's scout's passed through the city on C. P. R. yesterday bound for Minnabasca ranch, Cochrane, where they will spend six days in camp. Of the boys, six are making the trip as a reward of proficiency through competition at the cost of the official paper of the scouts, there until through the generosity of Lord Strathcona, and the parents of the other lads are footing their bills.

Tell an unworthy man that he is himself, and you have sufficiently stigmatized him.

SAID THE COUNTRY LOOKS LIKE WALES

So Three Welshmen Thought, So They Located in the Mellowdale Country

W. C. Hogg, a government land guide has returned from a trip into the Mellowdale country with a party of land seekers. He states that the crops in that district are in a fine condition and that the settlers are preparing to harvest. A peculiar incident in connection with the trip is that three Welshmen, who were in the party thought that the country looked so much like "home" that they decided to locate there, and have already fixed homesteads in that district.

NEARLY FATAL JOY OVER A HANDSHAKE

Belvidere, N. J., Aug. 8.—Thee Shea after shaking hands last night with Theodore Roosevelt, ran two and a half miles into the city and fell unconscious just as he was about to tell about it. It took two doctors four hours to bring him round. He has heart disease.

WILL ALSO MANUFACTURE THE OIL THEMSELVES INSTEAD OF IMPORTING IT

Victoria, Aug. 8.—According to reliable information MacKenzie & Mann are endeavoring to form a deep sea fishing trust on the British Columbia coast. They have already secured an option on the Pacific Whaling Company's interest and will also take over the Pacific Coast Fishery plant at Pacific, the Queen Charlotte and several other fishing plants, and are now trying to buy out the New England Fish Company which practically handles all the halibut on this coast.

The Alaska Whaling Company's interests are also included in their operations. MacKenzie and Mann's large freezing plants will be operated in connection with these and it is proposed to erect an immense soap plant so that oil can be manufactured in the province, instead of being shipped from Glasgow as is now the case.

New Quarters, Dimes and Nickles
Are Made Differently From The Old Ones

It has been noticed by many people in the last few days that there was something peculiar about the twenty-five, ten and five cent pieces that have been in circulation, and the rumor goes about that there was much counterfeit coin being hoisted. The peculiarity is naturally more noticeable in the twenty-five cent piece on account of its size, and it consists of the reverse side being upside down. (The old coins the front and back are stamped in opposite directions, but this is not the case with the new ones dated 1909.)

A Capital reporter this morning interviewed several bank managers on the matter, and in conversation with the manager of the Merchants' Bank it was found that a consignment of the coins had been just received from the Receiver-general's department at Ottawa, which is a guarantee of their genuineness.

SIX NURSES STOOD OFF SEVERAL MEN

Prevented Laborers at Fort William Hospital From Working Until Injunction Was Secured

Fort William, Aug. 8.—Unable to withstand the force of laborers who, under the direction of the authorities, and assistant city solicitor were about to tear up the soil of McKellar General Hospital Saturday afternoon, orderlies sent to the hospital for reinforcements, who promptly turned out in person of six captivating and intelligent nurses, who taking their stand where the excavators desired to work, scared them until an injunction temporarily restraining the city from their evil designs was secured from district judge. The injunction is good until Wednesday.

Short Meetings Were Held at
Vermilion and Other Points
Along the Line

ALL NOW GETTING READY

Every Member of the Party is Thinking of What He'll Say and Do in Edmonton

(Special to the Capital from a Correspondent on board the Laurier)

Special
Vermilion, Alta., Aug. 8.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's train paused here at Vermilion on its hurried way to Edmonton. The train left Lashburn, where it lay all last night, at nine o'clock this morning and yet even despite that early hour the Premier had already received an address of welcome and made a reply.

Welcomed to Alberta
The first stop of the special was then made at the portal to Alberta, Lloydminster. The Edmonton special car was waiting for him there and as soon as Sir Wilfrid's car was at a standstill the party hurried to extend to him a welcome to Alberta. The Premier expressed pleasure at entering the new province which had grown so greatly since his last political tour of the west sixteen years ago.

Farmers Interviewed Him
Sir Wilfrid was called upon to receive a deputation of the United Farmers Association on the special platform which had been erected close to the station. They repeated the requests which the other farmers' deputations have made since leaving Saskatchewan. They ask for the Hudson's Bay Railroad, government operation of grain elevators, reduction of the tariff, and encouragement for the chilled meat trade. They laid special stress on the points.

Gave Assurance
In reply the Premier gave the assurances which he has given to all these deputations but in regard to the chilled meat question. He said that he would have to consult with Hon. Sidney Fisher, the Minister of Agriculture. He recalled the various things the government had done for the dairy and fruit producers and thought perhaps similar assistance in the matter of shipping facilities could be given the cattle men.

The Premier is in the best of health. He spent a quiet Sunday at Battleford.

Talked to the Children
In the afternoon here he accepted the invitation of the local clergyman of all denominations to address the Sunday School children. There were about three hundred little people present. They sang "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," while Sir Wilfrid kept time with his right hand. He admonished them always to tell the truth and fight fair. To illustrate his homely sermon he told them stories.

The first was about Lord Charles Bessford and dealt with an escapade of that distinguished British Admiral when a midshipman. The second was a chapter of his own life. He used it to illustrate how lasting friendships sometimes spring up between men who have "fought fair."

When Laurier Was Little
"When I was little," he said, "my father sent me to an English school at New Glasgow, Quebec. It was the only French boy there and I thought my father was very cruel, though I have blessed him since for having sent me there. One day as we were marching out of school one boy grabbed my hair on the side and one seized another bunch of it on the other. I had to fight or lose my hair, so I tackled one of them. I fought who won. I know, though, that I was very sorry for it. But now, that I live in Winnipeg and we are the best of friends. Every time I am in Winnipeg we see one another. We both tried to fight fair and since then we have been steadfast friends."

The children's eyes were wide open with wonder. The small boys showed renewed admiration for this man who

NEXT YEAR AT REGINA

Western Cricket Tournament to Be Held in Saskatchewan Capital

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—The Western Canada cricket tournament was opened Saturday with a close game between Saskatchewan and Alberta, which the former won by six runs. Neither team showed great strength with the willow and it was practically a bowler's fight. Price and Vidal for Saskatchewan, and Johnson and Spick for the Sunny Province, all four being in good form. Alberta won the toss and, going in first, made but sixty runs and Saskatchewan went for a better. Going in again, Alberta did better, scoring 85 and Saskatchewan tallied 18 for two wickets when stumps were pulled and the game had been decided on the first innings. It was decided that the tournament in all probability will be held at Regina.

Lost to Maroons on Saturday, Making Three Straight—It is Time for a Brace

Winnipeg, Aug. 8.—The Maroons closed the series with Edmonton by defeating the Eskimos 4 to 3 in the Saturday afternoon contest, the evening game being called in the first inning to a sharp rain, this saving Dell from a double trick. Fosberg, a Maroon recruit, allowed six hits and himself broke the tie in the ninth by hitting a homer, but a man being on base, already, scoring the winning run, the hit counted for two bases. Vandine also featured with two timely hits. Dell allowed but seven hits but the only error of the game helped the Maroons.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Edmonton City League Championship Calles "A" v. Calles "B"
What promises to be the match of the season comes off on the baseball grounds on Wednesday night. Both teams are out to do or die. The "A" team have a few invalids after their rough passage on Friday night with St. George's. They intend to take no chances with the "B" team and have on their best line-up. The "B" team have had a resting spell and should be on deck Wednesday night to do the needful. They have who the "A" team lack—plenty of dash in their forward line, so from the reports that's going round in the "B" camp they are going to spring a surprise on the "A" team. They have been in strict training this past week, knowing whoever won between the St. Georges and the Calles would keep them going. So all you football supporters get on deck on Wednesday night. Mr. Atkinson, who refereed the game on Friday night so they will again have an opportunity to look after this final game. The spectators are kindly requested to assist the referee by keeping six feet off the line of play, it certainly being annoying to the players, when the spectators encroach on the touch line, and more so, they themselves run a risk of getting hurt by the players when trying to keep the ball in play. The game is called for 7 p.m. So look for a "hot" game when St. meets Scot.

NATIONAL LIST FIRST

Toronto, August 8.—For the first time this year the concurring National Lacrosse team went down to defeat on Saturday. They crossed sticks at the Island Stadium with the Tecumsehs and the score 6 to 3 in favor of the Indians told the story of one of the best, heaviest and most heady games of lacrosse ever seen in the city. It is said several thousand dollars change hands in the issue for the Tecumsehs came up with money and threw it away giving odds of two to one on the team. The game was clean throughout, but very fast and characterized by heavy butt-checking.

St. Mary's rowing four, including John O'Neil, of Halifax, N.S., defeated the champion North Stars at Dartmouth.

EXCELSIOR! EXCELSIOR!

The shades of night were falling fast as through the gate the Journal passed determined on the Edmonton night To make the little class team cry: Excelsior, Excelsior!

The Sunday school team watched the come, And calmly went on chewing gum, Till they'd seen all from front to rear. Then from their throats arose a cheer, Excelsior, Excelsior!

The Journal played the game they like, They fanned the ball and ducked at strikes, While their opponents, feeling fine, Soon had the score at one to nine, Excelsior, Excelsior!

A ball was falling from the sky, When there arose an awful cry Excelsior had grabbed the sack And laid the first baseman on his back Excelsior, Excelsior!

The paper men were feeling sore, When Moss said "Stop, I want no more" And at the umpire softly swore, The game was won Excelsior, Excelsior!

O stay, O stay! their rivals cried, As with sarcastic taunts they tried To make their victims play more ball But Scott and Moss refused the call, Excelsior, Excelsior!

The shades of night were falling fast, As through the gate the Journal passed, While from the side of wood and tar A shout was heard which spread afar, Excelsior, Excelsior! Contributed by Simfellow, with apologies to Longfellow.

WESTMINSTER ALWAYS WINS

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 8.—The New Westminster Minto Cup holders Saturday for the sixth time in seven league games defeated Vancouver by a score of 5 to 3. It was a fast, close and at times rough contest in which the Royals out-generalized their opponents, especially in the last quarter when the score was a tie, 3 to 3. Vancouver lost their hearts and their hides and the Royals easily scored their two goals.

The score of the quarters.
First Quarter—Westminster, Len Turnbull, 15 minutes.
Second Quarter—Westminster, Fenney, 15 minutes; Victoria, Hogan, 5 minutes.
Third Quarter—Westminster, D. Spring, 10 min.; Vancouver, O'Reilly, 14 1/2 minutes; Vancouver, West, 3 minutes.
Fourth Quarter—Westminster, W. Turnbull, 3 minutes; Westminster, W. Turnbull, 13 minutes.

This practically ended the interest in the series between these, the only professional league teams in the British Columbia League, for even if Vancouver won all the five remaining games of the series it would only tie.

MRS. WHITE, SOME ROOTER

Mrs. Deacon White, wife of the manager of the Edmonton team is certainly some rooter. Yesterday in the grand stand she made more noise over the Edmonton bunch than a whole squad of the local boys over the Maroons. If the Winnipeg fanatics would go out and boost for the home team the same as Mrs. White did, the local lads would play with more ginger and snap. Mrs. White did not get many opportunities to nab herself hot but promises more to-day.—Free Press.

JIM CORBETT'S UNKNOWN

Bakersfield, Cal., Aug. 8.—The identity of James J. Corbett's "unknown," whom the former champion expects to win the championship from Jack Johnson for the white race, was revealed yesterday in a message from Albany, Mo. Miles McLeod, a young giant, 27 years old, and weighing 250 pounds, is Corbett's protégé. The message which is declared to be from strictly reliable sources, stated that McLeod has signed a contract with Corbett to enter the ring, and that he is now secretly receiving instructions from the former champion.

McLeod comes from a family of giants, having two brothers his equal in size. He is a college man and an athlete.

MONTREAL BEAT TORONTO.

Montreal, August 8.—The Montreal team made its first appearance in the N.L.U. feature on Saturday since their unsuccessful attempt to land the Minto Cup. They showed themselves in fine form and easily beat the Toronto team, piling up a score of 9 to 5. Montreal showed dash and aggressiveness throughout, and even brilliant play at times, while their steady defence was too much for the visitors.

Proper Lubrication

For gasolene and kerosene engines

Standard Gas Engine Oil

Is the only oil you need. It provides perfect lubrication under high temperatures without appreciable carbon deposits on rings or cylinders, and is equally good for the external bearings.

Steam Traction Engines and Steam Plants

Capitol Cylinder Oil delivers more power, and makes the engine run better and longer with less wear and tear, because its friction-reducing properties are exactly fitted to the requirements of steam traction engines and steam plants.

Traction Engines, Wagons, Etc.

Mica Axle Grease makes the wheel as nearly frictionless as possible and reduces the wear on axle and box. It ends axle troubles, saves energy in the horse, and when used on axle of traction engines economizes fuel and power.

Flows, Harrows, Drills

Granite Harvester Oil insures better work from the new machine and lengthens the life of the old. Wherever bearings are loose and levers work it takes up the play and acts like a cushion. Changes of weather do not affect it.

VERDICT OF JURY ON G.T.P. ACCIDENT

No One Was to Blame for Young Man's Death According to the Evidence

"That the deceased came to his death about 10.55 p.m. on August 5th in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company yards at Edmonton by being run over by an engine or truck; how it happened there is no evidence before us to show; we the jury, also consider every reasonable precaution had been taken to prevent such an accident as this evidently was."

Such was the verdict of the jury enquiring into the death of William Griffith in the G.T.P. yards on Friday night.

Dr. Hyslop a Witness

Dr. Hyslop was the first witness, who said that the found body in a badly mangled condition and was satisfied that it had been run over by a truck or an engine.

Engineer Thomas C. Case who was in charge of the switching engine, said he last saw Griffith 10.45 walking towards the front of the engine with a lighted lantern. He was evidently going to get 615 coat, which was on the front, as it was beginning to rain. Shortly afterwards he got the signal to get back and at the back was found the body. He did not hear any peculiar noises or feel the engine passing over anything unusual.

Was Not a Drinker

P. P. Dingman, switch foreman, said that he and two switchmen, Ritchie and Griffith, were riding on the back foot of the engine. He got off to give some orders and a little while after he saw Ritchie signalling the engine. Dingman gave Griffith a very good character. He said that he did not drink and as far as he knew, was sober at the time.

Geo. Ritchie said that after Dingman left, Griffith said he would go to the front to get his coat. The engine stopped to connect some cars and then went ahead about 400 yards, after which they returned to the main line. He missed Griffith and stepping down on to the track to look up the line for him he trod right on the mangled body.

The juryman was James Cummin, Chas. Tyner, Ralph Saunders, Ernest McGregor, Claud Jefferson and Oliver Desjardis. The first-mentioned being the foreman.

THE MARKETS

Report from Rice & Whaley, Winnipeg. The receipts of cattle this week totalled 4300 head, 2300 for the market and the balance for export.

Among the sale were some fair butchering steers weighing around 1100 pounds that sold from $4.75 to $5.25, feed and watered. The best cows and heifers, mixed, sold at $4.00 to $4.50. Fair to medium killing steers, heifers and cows mixed found sale at $3.65 to $4.25.

The local demand was firm during the whole week and the market active from start to finish.

There was but one load of export cattle on sale and these brought $5.50 with the freight assumed which amounted to about $5.65 feed and watered.

This week's shipment of exports showed a decided improvement over the past two weeks. Cattle have been of good quality and carried considerable weight, in fact very good for this early in the season.

We quote prices this week as follows, feed and watered: Best export steers $5.50 to $5.75 Fair to good export steers 5.50 to 5.40 Best butcher steers 5.00 to 5.30 Best export heifers 4.50 to 5.25 Fair to good butcher steers and heifers 4.00 to 4.50 Best fat cows 3.50 to 4.00 Fair to good cows 3.25 to 3.50 Common cows 2.00 to 2.75 Best bulls 3.50 to 4.00 Common bulls 2.50 to 3.00 Good to best feeding steers, 1000 lbs. up 4.00 to 4.25 Good to best feeding steers, 900 to 1000 lbs. 3.50 to 4.00 Stockers, 70 to 800 lbs. 3.25 to 3.60 Light stockers 2.50 to 3.00 Hog receipts were light this week, 1150 head. The market was on a basis of $8.50 for the choice hogs. Sheep and lambs, receipts 300 head. Heavy sheep $4.50 to $5.00; good light weight sheep $5.50 to $6.00; lambs $6 to $7. Veal calves, 260 head. Choice veals, $4.00 to $4.50; heavy and common, $3.50 to $3.75.

NEW STREET CARS ARRIVE

The second two of the six cars ordered by the city from the Ottawa Car Company, arrived in Edmonton last night via Canadian Northern and are now being unloaded at the city yards, Kinsington avenue.

In the handling of these cars the Canadian Northern has established a new record for fast freight service from Eastern Canada. The shipment left Ottawa on Saturday, July 30th, and arrived in Edmonton on Sunday, August 7th, being exactly eight days in transit. The run from Winnipeg to Edmonton was made in 55 hours, which is equal to the service given by the fast freight lines between New York and Chicago.

LARGEST CRUISER IN WORLD

"Lion," Britain's Largest Addition to Navy, Was Launched Saturday

London, Aug. 8.—The armored cruiser "Lion," the largest, fastest and most powerful cruiser in the world, was launched at the dock yard at Devonport this evening. The keel of the giant cruiser was laid November 29th.

Though the usual secrecy in regard to design was at first maintained, it is now known that the cruiser weighs 700 tons of deck will carry eight guns of 13.5-inch calibre throwing projectiles of 1200 pounds. They will be mounted in four barbettes, all on the centre line of the ship.

The cruiser will have a displacement, when completed, of 26,350 tons and will be driven by turbine engines of 70,000 horse power, giving her an expected speed of 28 knots. Her superiority over her predecessors in the battleship class is shown by the comparison of her 20,000 horse power with the earlier maximum of 45,000.

EDMONTON THE FAIR

Fair Edmonton! thou gateway of the West,

As o'er thy beauty, now, mine eyes do dwell.

And wrapt in silence, list unto thy call

World-wide, to men with mind and muscle blest,

Fair Edmonton! One glory of our land,

Beneath Alberta's bright, ethereal dome,

For thy love, although afar from home,

For thou a greeting hast, on every hand.

For minds, enthused by magic tales of gold,

Profusely sang to lands beyond our ken,

Until at last unnumbered thousands ten,

In fancy, view thy wild and fertile world,

For soon their souls, by Faith's expansive law

Upborne are, from clime's chaotic bound,

To be, at length, within thy precincts, found,

New units, oft too mighty, crude and raw.

But hope thou hast on every throbbing side,

Thy schools and churches blessed are, and fair,

As skyward rise they, mid thy mountain air,

More mighty far, than legions trained to ride.

Emblems are these indeed of thy clear thought,

These only nations can enshrine in power,

These only can, when dangers darkening lower,

A strength sublime insure from Heaven.

Fair city! Thou the star of Arctic pride,

A future great and noble waits for thee:

As day by day, the north from sea to sea

Its treasures, rolls eternal 'thwart thy side.

Then may sweet Peace her charms not spread in vain,

May home and country ne'er forgotten be,

May every traitor to thy future flee,

Then must thou fumed be beyond the main.

TWO SUICIDES WERE FOUND IN THE CITY YESTERDAY

Walter Watts, Living on Stoney Plain Road, Shot Himself With Gun

ANOTHER HUNG HIMSELF

Police Believe Second Suicide to Be D. A. Tiffany of Edenville, Alta.

Two gruesome suicides were found in Edmonton yesterday. On the Stoney Plain road Walter Watts, a young Englishman, was found outside his shack with a gun between his knees and his brains blown out, while an elderly man, whose name the police are satisfied is D. A. Tiffany, was found hanging by a chain from the limb of a tree not 100 feet from the street car tracks at Twenty-first street.

It was late yesterday afternoon when Watt was found by some small boys who were playing on the Stoney Plain road.

The body was lying on the ground, the brains blown out and a shot gun lying between his knees. A tree nearby was splattered with blood about two feet from the ground and it is thought that Watts sat down and leaned against the tree and then used a crooked stick to pull the trigger.

Dog Was Starving

Approaching the shack the police heard the yelping of a dog which was chained to the shed. It was cut loose and given something to eat, when it was found that it was half starved. It devoured a loaf and a half of bread in no time which went to show that it had been without food for some days.

Dr. Farin, the coroner, who went out with the police, examined the body and judged that it had been there several days.

Had a Fellow Lodger

The shack where Watts lived was well furnished and everything seemed to be in order. Several of his photographs were lying about. Two bicycles were standing in one corner; on the stove was a teapot with the remains of tea in it. In his clothing were $12.15 in cash and a notebook containing several addresses: E. Watts, Levers Inn, Holy Head Road, Handsworth, North Birmingham, and Berry A. Watts, Hall Lane Farm, Holyandswaine, Penistone.

Watts had not been seen along and the police are mystified as to who his fellow lodger was. He has not returned to the shack yet so it is thought that he must be out of town.

The deceased was a building labourer by trade and a member of the Sons of England, Edmonton Lodge 255. The body was removed to Connelly & McKinley's undertaking rooms and an inquest will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Second Suicide

The other suicide that of D. J. Tiffany, was of just as ghastly a character. A small son of the property of the ice cream tent at Twenty-first street was playing in the bushes when he suddenly ran in to tell his sister that there was "such a funny looking man standing under a tree who did not move."

Mr. James, a city contractor, went back with him and there found an elderly man hanging by a chain from a tree with his feet within an inch of the ground, giving him the appearance of standing looking up into the tree.

The watch in the vest pocket was still faintly ticking, the hand pointing to 2.45 and an envelope in his pocket disclosed the name of D. A. Tiffany, Edenville, Alta. Beyond this the police have found nothing further about him so far. It was thought that he had been working at the Sandison Brick Works, but enquiries proved that this was not the case.

The place where the suicide took place, though only 100 feet from the car line, is exceedingly dense with undergrowth and is sufficiently isolated for the body to hang there for a number of days without any one being any the wiser.

No one apparently knows the old man. The proprietress of the ice cream stand sold him some ice cream and noticed that he had a young man with him, that he seemed to be acting rather queerly as though his mind was slightly unbalanced.

The body was removed to Connelly & McKinley's parlors and an inquest will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Meanwhile, the police are doing their utmost to discover who his associate was and what they were doing together, but so far nothing unusual has been unearthed.

Manager of Barnes' Circus is in Town and Talks to a Reporter

Mr. Bushe, the manager of Barnes' Circus, has arrived in Edmonton and is a guest at the Alberta Hotel. Speaking of the fair grounds which he went out to see this morning Mr. Bushe said that he had seen all the fairs in Canada and the United States and without exception the Edmonton exhibition grounds were the finest and best laid out that he had seen as yet. "There is not a department," he said, "which is not being well looked after and adequately managed."

The circus has come into Canada it seems, in spite of the Show Trust, which invited Barnes to join it in boycotting Canada.

Last year a circus went to Winnipeg and finding it was doing a rushing business, it put up the prices charging $1 admission and $1 extra for a reserved seat. The city council immediately passed a by-law regulating the prices and in consequence the American show trust gathered under its wings all the shows covering Canadian territory and proceeded to boycott the country.

Mr. Barnes was asked to join and did not. His circus therefore is the only big one in Canada this season.

The circus is a large one which takes thirty-six cars to carry it. Amongst the leading attractions will be the big circus, the "Lion" side-show; Loto, an illusion gallery; the Minstrel Maids, an up-to-date vaudeville show; Bandits, a series of films never before seen in Canada; the Glass Horses; the Arkansas Minstrels; the Tinkles, and not forgetting Nettie, the 6'9" lb. beauty. At Moose Jaw Nettie broke down two steps of the hotel when she was coming out after breakfast and the midge of the company in all seriousness rushed to her assistance, thereby disabling any bystander from helping her owing to their uncontrollable laughter.

The merry-go-round, the Ferris Wheel and Monkeyland will be other attractions. In the big circus there will be 21 wild animal acts, including tigers, lions, seals and other animals.

"The whole circus requires a space of five acres and the Barnes' Minstrel concert band of twenty-six pieces will be in attendance the whole time."

This morning at the exhibition offices forty-six entries for the five stage classes were received.

CARL HENNINGSEN'S DYE WORKS

FOUND REMAINS OF THE ROBBERY

While walking on the flats at the rear of the golf links yesterday afternoon, Mr. Bullock, caretaker of the Heimick block, stumbled across a number of articles which were afterwards identified as part of the goods stolen from the tents of R. and S. Farquharson, and J. H. Clark, which are situated at the end of Victoria Avenue, last Tuesday. The thefts in question were the most nervy that the local police have been called upon to investigate for some time. The raid was made during the day when the owners were absent, and a complete getaway with everything worth getting was made by the marauders. The value of the goods stolen was fixed at about $150 to $200.

Goods Were Destroyed

The goods found by Mr. Bullock were in nearly every case mutilated so as to render them useless. They consisted of a purse, pocket-book, two fountain pens, a cap and several other articles.

Although the theft was reported to the local police last Tuesday, and they stated that they were working on the case, nearly a week has elapsed and they have as yet discovered no clue as to the identity or whereabouts of the perpetrators of the thefts.

LAND BOOM NOW STRIKES ST. JOHN

In View of Fact That Grand Trunk Terminals and Docks Will Be There

St. John, N.B., August 8.—Real estate around Courtney Bay where the Grand Trunk Terminals and dock yards will be built was sharply advanced, and owners are holding out for high prices.

A great boom is expected there next year when it is said construction work will begin. Over two hundred and seventy-five feet of lumber was cut on the New Brunswick Crown lands last year, and stampee dues amount to over three hundred thousand dollars. Over half that amount has already been paid.

Each grate bar has three sides—long wear

When only one side of a grate bar is continually next to the fire all the wear is concentrated on that one side. The life of the grate bar is thus naturally just one-third as long as when the wear is distributed on three sides.

That explains why Sunshine grates have three lives. Each of the four grate bars has three sides. Each time the ashes are "rocked down" (no shaking with Sunshine) the side next to the fire can be changed. Thus the life of the grates is greatly prolonged.

When desired, the heavy bull dog teeth on the grates will seize hold of clinkers, break them up, and drop the particles into the ash-pan.

Satan & Sanderson

Chapter 2

ALBURY SANDERSON and the judge parted at the gate, and Harry walked slowly home in the moonlight.

The youthful follies that he had resurrected when he had called himself his old nickname of "Satan Sanderson" had left so far behind him, had buried so deep, that the ironic turn of circumstance that had dragged them into view seemed remote and malicious.

He had saved an old college mate from possible disbarment and the grief of poverty, for David Stiles' health was precarious. He thought of this with a tinge of satisfaction. The least of that peculiar clan, one who had held his place in the world by his own abilities, but by a voracious talent for letters in mind. Hugh Stiles, who deserved this, was now a judge, and Harry Sanderson had never shirked an obligation. "As a man of words used by the old man—re- Sanderson" that earned him a name, getting his old man's name, what he was, getting his name?

The later night was very still, and the moon, lifting its silver lantern over the open tops, surveyed all the landscape. In its placid radiance the white house loomed in a ghostly pallor. The windows of one side were blank, but behind the library shade the balcony lamp still glowed like a mouse-glowworm. From the shadowy side of the building stretched a narrow lane, its front covered by a rose trellis whose pale blossoms in the soft night air mingled their delicate fragrance with that of the jasmine.

Save for the one bright pane there seemed now no life or movement in the house. But outside in the moonlight a shabby, shabbily dressed figure moved, making his uncertain way with the deliberation of compound inebriety. The man of the window was raised a few inches, and he nodded sagely at the yellow shade.

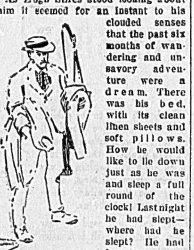

"Gay old silver top," he blurted out, "see you in the morning!"

He expelled against an unseen bush and shook his head with owlish gravity as he disentangled himself. Then he staggered recklessly to the rose trellis and, choosing its angle with an assurance that betrayed ancient practice, climbed to the upper window, shot its bolt with a knife and let himself in. He painstakingly closed both windows and inner blinds before he turned on an electric light.

In the room in which he stood now he had stored his boy's treasures and shirked his mother's tasks. It should have deeper human associations, too, for once, before the house had been changed to its present proportions, that chamber had been his mother's. The Marchal Niel rose that clambered to the window sill had been planted by her hand. In that room he had been born. And in it had occurred that sharp, corrosive quarrel with his father on the night he had hung himself from the house waving never to return.

As Hugh Stiles stood looking about him it seemed for an instant to his clouded senses that the past six months of wandering and unsavory adventure were a dream. There was his bed, with its clean linen sheets and soft pillow. How he would like to lie down just as he was and sleep a full round of the clock! Last night he had slept. He had forgotten for the moment. He looked longingly at the splashed coverlet. No; none one might appear, and it would not do to be seen in his present condition. It was scarcely 10. Time enough for that afterward.

He drew out the drawer of a chiffonier, opened a closet and gazed over the order and plenty of their contents.

He made difficult selection from these at the splashed coverlet. No; none one might appear, and it would not do to be seen in his present condition. It was scarcely 10. Time enough for that afterward.

He crossed to a chival glass. The dark, handsome face that looked out at him was clean cut and aristocratic, perfect save for one bluish-pale line that slanted across the right brow, a birthmark, resembling a scar. All his life this mark had been an exposure to the evils, round and vigorous as they were, subtle lines of self-indulgence had already set themselves, beneath their exuberance, cavalier and carefree, lay the unmistakable stigma of inherited weakness. But these the gaze did not see. He regarded himself with egotistic complacency. Here he was just as sound as ever. He had had his fling and taught the "governor" that he could get along well enough without any paternal help if he chose.

He attentively surveyed the room. It was clean and dainty—evidently it had been carefully tended. He might have stepped out of it yesterday. Not a thing had been disturbed—yes, one thing, his portrait that had hung over his bed was not in its place. A momentary sense of trepidation rushed through him. Could his father really have meant all he had said in his rage? Did he really mean to disown him?

For an instant he faced the hall door with closed hands. Somewhere in the house, unconscious of his presence, was that ward of whom coming he had learned. More was a good friend he had warned him. Was she part of a plan of reprisal—her presence there a tentative threat to him? Could his father mean to disown her? Might that great house, those grounds, the built of his worth, go to her, and he, the son, be left in the cold? He shivered. Perhaps he had run away too long!

As he turned again, he heard a sound in the hall. He listened. A light step was approaching—the swish of a gown. With a sudden impulse he stepped into the embrasure of the window, as the figure of a girl paused at the door. He felt his face flushed. She had thrown a crimson kimono over her white nightgown, and the apparition seemed to part the dusk of the doorway like the red breast of a robin. She held in her hands a bunch of the pale Marchal Niel roses, and his eyes caught the long rebellious sweep of her bronze hair and the rose tint of bare feet through the worsted mesh of her night slippers.

To his wonder the sight of the lighted room seemed to cause her no surprise. For an instant she stood still as though listening, then entered and placed the roses in a vase on a reading stand by the bedside.

Hugh gasped. To reach the stand the girl had passed the spot where he stood, but she had taken no note of him. Her gaze had gone by him as if he had been empty air. Then he realized the truth! Jessica Holme was blind! More's letter had given him no inkling of that. So this was the girl with whom his father now threatened him! Was she counting on his not coming back, waiting for the windfall? She was blind—but she was beautiful. Suppose he were to turn the tables on the old man, not only climb back into his good graces through her, but even—

The thin line on his brow sprang suddenly scarlet. What a supple, graceful arm she had! How adroit her fingers as they strangled the rose stems! He was already wholly blinded in her opinion? What did she think of him? Why did she bring those flowers to that empty room? Could it have been she who had kept it clean and fresh and unaltered against his return? A confident, daring look grew in his eyes. He wished she could see him in that purple tie and velvet smoking jacket. What an opportunity

For a romantic war justness? Should he speak? Suppose it should frighten her!

Chance answered him. His respiration had conveyed to her the knowledge of a presence in the room. He heard her draw a quick breath. "Some one is here!" she whispered. (To be continued.)

TIME MEASURED BY "SNOWS" AND "SUNS"

Distance Computed Also By "Sleeps" By Indians of Alaska

Washington, Aug. 7.—"Leatherstocking" is verified and Fenimore Cooper is vindicated, and their substantiation comes as it should, through the census bureau. It is from far away Alaska, but it is official. This substantiation is found in a report from Chief Census Agent McKenzie, telling all about the taking of the census in the Fairbanks district. Mr. McKenzie gives assurance that the Indians do measure time by the "snows" and "suns" and distances by "sleeps." Indeed, he asserts that they have no other standards of time or of measurement, and in relating the fact he cites an instance which throws a little light on the difficulties of enumerating the red men.

"Only the very young children, who have been educated in the government schools," he says, "have any knowledge of their ages or births, and the agents were instructed to use the age and birth months as nearly as talk and observation would seem correct. Time with them is computed on suns and snows, and distances, by sleeps, marriages, separations, births and deaths are all based upon such calculations, and we were obliged to have our information in this same way."

A MARVELOUS ESCAPE.

Automobile Jumped 200 Feet Through Space—Occupants Unhurt.

Milton, July—A marvelous escape from death is related of a party of three lawyers whom Commodore Jacopucci was treating to a motor tour in the Abruzzi Mountains. The motor car, a splendid bridge over the river Ariccia, near Teramo, and whizzed through the dizzy space down to the bottom of the chasm, 200 feet deep. Though the automobile was smashed to fragments the lawyers escaped unhurt.

The weak-kneed and discouraged should take example by the mule. A mule never allows anything to kill him until he has made up his mind to die.

That there were other difficulties in getting the facts regarding the aborigines is indicated by the following from the report:

Many of the Indians know a sufficient number of English words to do business with a white man, but when it was determined that they were to be counted they had a faculty for closing their mouths and knowing nothing until an interpreter impressed upon them the fact that the agent came from the Great White Father at Washington.

Regarding the habits and character of the people, he says:

"As a class they are indolent, lazy and dirty, although in recent years the teachers have taught the younger ones that dirt has been the cause of much of their illness and the present generation are keeping themselves healthier by bathing. Their homes are filthy as a rule and conducive to the diseases with which the Indians are most afflicted."

Seldom See Money

"They spend their winter in hunting and their summers in fishing. Furs, secured, hides of moose and caribou, are brought to the traders and exchanged for food and clothing, and sold for money. One of these hides they also make moccasins, gloves, mittens and other curios which they trade in the same way. The fish caught in the summer are dried and used for food for themselves and their dogs during the winter."

"The Indians have no knowledge of their tribal or clan names and are always called by their village or locality names. The Indians in the vicinity of Chandler River are called Chandler Indians. The same is true of the Chena, Salcha, Tanana, Circle tribes, etc. The missionaries and the bureau of education have determined, however, that all of the Indians in the interior of Alaska are Athabascan-Kuskokwotians with the exception of those in the Koyukuk district, which are Athabascan-Koyukuk-hotana."

AN OAK 2,000 YEARS OLD.

Quillay, Northern France, July.—The oldest oak in the world stands near this town, and scientists have just concluded that it must be two thousand years old & thereabouts. The grand tree is no higher than the average oak, but its branches are so far reaching as to be able to give shade to five hundred persons at midday. It is a hollow tree, yet it flourishes exceedingly. In one of the hollows water collects every summer. This water is sold by the proprietor at a high price. It is said to have great medicinal value.

RUB THE OTHER EYE.

Play of a Locomotive Engineer is Worth Trying.

Nine persons out of ten, with a cinder or any other foreign substance in the eye, will instantly begin to rub it with one hand while hunting for a handkerchief with the other. This is all wrong. The right way is not to rub the eye with the cinder in it, but to rub the other as vigorously as you like.

A few months ago I was riding on the engine of a fast express, says an American writer. The engineer threw open the front window of the cab, and I caught a cinder in my eye which gave me intense pain. I began to rub the eye desperately, when the engineer called to me, "Let that eye alone and rub the other one." Thinking he was kidding me, I only rubbed the harder. "I know the doctors think they know it all, but they don't and if you will let that eye alone and work on the other one, you will soon have the cinder out," shouted the engineer. I did as he directed, and soon felt the cinder down near the inner canthus, and made ready to take it out. "Let it alone and keep at the well eye," again shouted the engineer. I did so for a minute longer, and then looking into a small glass the engineer handed me. I saw the offender on my cheek. I have tried it many times since, always with success.

SOME REPTILE PETS.

No Reason For Prejudice Against Them.

The prejudice against reptiles is the result of custom and education. In some nations reptiles are not dreaded. Lizards and snakes are tolerated as well as butterflies, and are even used as pets.

If you catch a butterfly, and give him a taste of a bit of moistened sugar on your hand you may release him. He will not fly away, but will continue to perch on your finger, and to feed. You may be tempted to take flies from your hand, and so may the little grey lizard which abound in some portions of the country.

Kindness will work wonders with many of the inferior creatures which we hate or despise. Yet the prejudice against them is hard to root out. Often it exists unconsciously.

The slovenly man falls apart in only one or two spots; the slovenly woman goes to pieces all over.

EASTWARD HO!

Away from the western prairie! "Way eastward I shall roam," And oh, but my heart is merry. For eastward lies my home.

They talk of the secret calling. The calling back to the plain: And back though me 'twil be hailing, I'm glad to be home again.

This call has often found us. Our hopes and pride depressed: With envying those around us, Till envy drives us west.

The western fields look golden. The western fields are free. New hopes our hearts enfolded, And gaily west we flee.

'Tis truly a land of plenty. A land where the poor may thrive. But often the fuel is scanty. That keeps the soul alive.

We tire of endless wheat fields. And heaven's boundless dome. 'Tis a vision sweet, that narrow street. The house we hail as home.

MODERN LIFE WOULD BE TOO HARD ON THE NERVES IF IT WERE NOT FOR WANT ADVERTISING!

The pace of life has become tense.

Worries, disappointments, up-sets at home and office, losses, discouragements seem to multiply as daily life becomes more complex.

The property owner, who MUST have a steady income from rents or lose his property, is "racked" by the untimely defection of a tenant. Some classified advertising quickly retrieves his loss—and quiets his nerves!

The salary earner unexpectedly loses his position—and his peace of mind. The strain would shortly "break" something in his nervous system if, once more, want advertising did not find the better job—and restore to him his mental equilibrium.

In every phase of the city's life, every day, the want ads play the part of the peace-maker. They SERVE you and me at some crisis in our lives—and keep the modern pace and tension from proving too fast and tight for us.

Truly, the want ads ARE FOR SERVICE!

Bishop Holmes paid particular attention to describing the work in the Grand Prairie district, which in the past year has been such a strong attraction for those who take up land. Bishop Holmes is the head of the diocese of Athabasca and is in the city on his way to the provincial synod which opens at Prince Albert on August 10th.

ALBERTA GREETED

was not only a great politician and statesman, but who had actually used his fists in a fight. Two little girls presented him with flowers. One was a white child the other a little Indian maid. The Premier kissed them both in his kindly way and putting their heads, wanted to know their names.

Put Flowers on Coupler

At Lloydminster two little girls had picked an armful of field flowers, but nobody would present them, they looked so plain, so they were stuck carefully in the coupler projecting from under the rear platform of the Premier's car, where the bouquet was still riding when the train reached Vermilion.

What They Are All Doing

The Hon. George P. Craig, the Minister of Railways, is in his car thinking up something funny to say to the people of Edmonton so as to relieve his more serious utterances. First Pardee, the chief Government Whip, is working out "The Chief's" engagement list. Colonel E. M. MacDonald, of Pictou, Nova Scotia, is studying how to get a new way of saying "I am from the little province down by the sea, down by the broad Atlantic."

"Aire Ye Frae Peter Hai"

The quiet little Senator Gibson who refrains from making speeches but sits smoking in deep cogitation, is speculating on the chances of finding a man "Frae Peter Hai" in Edmonton. Every where the good old Scotch Senator, "Fighting Willie Gibson" as he used to be known, goes he looks for a man from "Peter Hai," which is the part of Scotland he came from originally.

"Aire ye from Peter Hai?" he always asks the first man he meets in a new place after the first ceremonies are dispensed with. The other day he asked it of a motorist who was driving him in a motor.

"No, sir," said the man.
"Well, ye've a Scotch name," pursued the Senator. "Was your mother na frae Peter Hai?"

"Well, yes," the driver declared after a moment's thought. "I remember she was sir, I had forgotten—yes, sir, it was Peter Hai."

"Aye," said the deep old Senator, who is incidentally the reader of every thing that the papers print about the trip, "aye, I thought I knew it; I knew part of ye was Peter Hai, anyway."

The special is due in Edmonton tonight at about six o'clock, but will probably be an hour late.

F. S. CARR IS PRINCIPAL

Appointed Head of the New High School at Meeting of Board Saturday

TAKES MR. RAE'S POSITION

Other Matters of a Routine Nature Were Also Disposed of

F. S. Carr, was appointed principal of the high school, to succeed Wm. Rae, resigned, at a meeting of the school board on Saturday afternoon, at a salary of $7,000 per annum. Mr. Carr has been connected with educational work in the province for some time, having during his career been principal of Queens avenue school, which position he held for six months, afterwards being transferred to the science department of the high school. Mr. Carr is the senior teacher of the province. There is a dearth of qualified teachers in the city and the secretary of the board was instructed to advertise in the eastern papers for qualified teachers.

Financial Affairs
The offer of the Imperial Bank to underwrite the debentures of the school board, for ten years at five per cent, for $15,000 was considered a reasonable one and was accepted. There were three other tenders.

A loan from the Imperial Bank of $45,000 was authorized by the board. The money will be used for the purchase of lots 9, 20, and 20 to 40 of block 24.

Building commissioner Turner was instructed to see that the sanitary arrangements in the schools complied with the city bylaw, the instructions being given in accordance with a letter from medical health officer Whitelaw.

Commissioner Turner rated the two houses being erected by Geo. Goldberry on the property for which the board is making an offer at about $8,000. The board decided to offer Mr. Goldberry $8,400 for the houses in course of erection and the property on which they are situated.

Contract Awarded

The Cameron Company were awarded the contract for kalsomining the temporary schools and for making sundry repairs to the McKay avenue school, Queen's avenue school and the Leaside-Taylor school. The price tendered was $9,400. There were no other tenders submitted.

The board decided that the insurance on the public school buildings should be placed in blocks of $100,000 and that no one firm should receive more than one block.

TEMPERANCE MEETING

There was a large attendance at the afternoon session yesterday at the Orpheum Theatre, although some disappointment was experienced by the non-arrival of the temperance film as scheduled. The management of the theatre filled the bill with a film with a temperance moral entitled "The Saloon Next Door."

Mr. D. K. McGregor sang a solo which was greatly appreciated. Several new hymn tunes were thrown upon the screen the audience joining heartily in the singing.

Mr. Stephen Brown took the chair and in his opening remarks referred to the future aggressive work to be carried out by the local committees in which a large electric lantern of power, now on its way from England will take a conspicuous part. This is supposed to be the largest lantern of this kind in Winnipeg and being the sole property of the local branch will be used for educational purposes in every church, school and hall available in the city and neighborhood.

Next Sunday there will be a temperance address by Mr. W. J. Leonard.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of The Capital.

Dear Sir—Now that there is no longer any doubt in the minds of all fair minded people as to the strategic importance of the position occupied by Fort George as a coming great railroad center, I have no hesitancy in your valuable paper to emphatically disprove the verulent vituperations of Mr. Hayes, of Cabinet, Idaho, in your issue of Saturday.

Mr. Hayes, on his own admission, made a flying trip from Calgary to Ascheron, and having missed the steamer connection, rushed by automobile to Quesnell, and later reached Fort George. After spending a few hours rushing around the embryo townsite and being unable to obtain any acreage at present low prices, our pessimistic friend hastens to civilization once again and attempts in various papers to vent his injured feelings by pouring out his dictum to the world at large, and this information, please note, after a residence among these "western farmers" of a few hours.

As I am constantly receiving letters in praise of this rising district, and having personal interviews with people who have also been to Fort George who intend making their homes there in the near future, I feel that some explanation is needed to allay any fears that might be caused by the views of this pessimistic man, who has been to Fort George only once and is contemplating a trip to this railroad center, which will positively see the entrance of several large railroads within a few years, with a city possibly as large as our friend Mr. Hayes has left across the border.

Apologizing for taking up your valuable space,

I remain, yours truly,

LEONARD W. HALL,

GRAND FIREWORKS PROGRAM

On the second evening of the Fair—St. John's and Wetaskiwin day another elaborate display will be given which in addition to the pieces shown on the first evening, includes Maltese cross in silver white fire, which changes alternately red and green the arms revolving in opposite directions, giving the effect of a brilliant wheel in gold and colors; pom-oms and silver feathers, commencing with the silver feathers placed in a row in sets of three between which are uprights which throw out pom shells and Roman candles, streams of translucent silver fire which falls to the ground in graceful feathery masses, doubles revolving suns, two mammoth wheels revolving against each other and throwing out rivers of golden spray which weave into a pattern of stars from a great distance on all sides, the centre being filled by another and smaller wheel which is decorated with colored fire rotating rapidly and showing through the gold as colored threads of vivid red and green triple device, three beautiful set pieces, the centre being a mammoth 8 pointed star throwing out a stream of golden snarles, on each side being a great revolving wheel, the whole extending to a length of over 50 feet these set pieces are also interspersed with displays of rockets, bombs and balloons, the program concluding with a magnificent set piece 100 feet long, the "Battle of the North Sea," representing terrific artillery duel between a battleship of the British fleet and that of a foreign power. A terrific battle ensues in which torpedoes are shot, immense shells explode in the air, war material of all kinds adds many effects of fire and sound until at length the fire of the British ship overcomes its opponent and the magazine of the great ironclad are reached and exploded, filling the air with burning material and the great warship is then seen to be sinking beneath the waves.

A BUSY MONTH FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE

July was a very busy month at the Board of Trade. Besides the business usually pertaining to a Board of Trade there was great activity in the publicity department. There are received during the month 524 letters, principally inquiries from all quarters of the world in response to advertisements. There were sent out from the office during the month 2,012 letters of various sorts, and 882 pamphlets, practically all of which went to individuals who were known to be interested. About 700 visitors called at the office during the month, about half of whom were strangers and consisted of heads of financial, commercial and industrial concerns in Canada, United States and Great Britain, prospective investors, farmers and others.

A large amount of the correspondence was with the editors of Canadian and British newspapers whom the secretary has succeeded in interesting who are asking for information either for publication or for their own information. Many responses have been received concerning letters sent out regarding crop conditions. Three of the largest Canadian papers asked for telegraphic summaries, and many more have written to ask for the full report by mail, while many of the leading business men in the parts of the Dominion have written expressing appreciation of the crop reports sent them and asking for more copies, and it has been found necessary to increase the number of copies from one thousand to two thousand copies.

Letters have this week been received from the editors of some of the great British publications including the London Times, Glasgow Herald, Yorkshire Gazette, The Aberdeen Press asking for crop reports. These are in answer to letters written them by the secretary, and the reports are being sent them in full for the information of the editors, and a summary for publication. The Canadian Mail, a financial paper published in London, interests, asked for a summary of the crop report by cable.

Besides numerous items in the local press, articles have been supplied to several outside papers of large circulation, and about twenty photographs of Edmonton scenes were supplied for reproduction in various publications.

About 22 journalists and newspaper men were shown courtesies during the month, supplied with information, shown over the city, and sent away with a favorable impression.

Arrangements were made for the gathering of agricultural exhibits for use at various big fairs, and magnificent exhibits will be available, all of this year's growth. A fine exhibit of grasses is now on hand and a portion is on its way to the National Exhibition at Toronto. A number of fields of very fine grain are marked down from which samples will be taken as soon as matured.
